Fathima Azeema

Software Engineer @ Code Studio Global | Bachelor of Information Technology @ UOM

Colombo, Western Province, Sri Lanka

Summary

I am an undergraduate student at the University of Moratuwa, pursuing a Bachelor of Information Technology, and I am also completing a Higher National Diploma in English at the Advanced Technical Institute. My educational journey and professional development have equipped me with diverse skills in both technology and communication.

I have completed several certifications and courses:

Front End Web Development, Web Design for Beginners, and Python for Beginners from the University of Moratuwa.

Communication Skills Development from Tata Consultancy Services.

Participated in an HTML & CSS Workshop.

Additionally, I have self-learned Photoshop, React, and Bootstrap through YouTube.

I am passionate about leveraging my skills in real-world applications and continuously learning to stay updated with the latest in technology. Let's connect and explore opportunities in the tech world!
